

Our wines

New wines

Our aim is never to have an extensive selection of wines, but rather to offer a select list that demonstrates above all authenticity and value for money. Recently we have tasted and enjoyed the following new wines that we are proud to add to the Vino list.

Madregale, Colline Teatine, Abruzzo

This simple pair of IGTs serve as something of our Vino house wines, the rosso made from the punchy Montepulciano grape, with plenty of deep fruit flavours, yet light and never heavy; the bianco surprisingly from Chardonnay, fresh, with an Abruzzese accent. These are excellent, well made wines to enjoy in quantity with simple foods and in the company of friends.

Cantina Sociale Frentana, Abruzzo

Italian cooperative wineries have improved beyond recognition in recent years and decades. The best are able selectively to source the best quality grapes from the numerous soci or cooperative growers who they work with, and transform these into well-made wines utilising the latest technologies. This Montepulciano d'Abruzzo is an excellent and great value example.

Casa Vinicola Botter, Veneto

There is apparently more 'Italian Pinot Grigio' sold in the UK than there is Pinot Grigio grown in all of Italy. Go figure.

Podere Terreno, Radda in Chianti, Tuscany

When we lived in Tuscany, we used to enjoy simple Chiantis, no, not the wine in the old straw-covered fiasco, but sometimes served in unlabelled bottles or drawn direct from the demi-john. This simple example, from our old friends at Podere Terreno (one of the best places to stay if you are visiting the wine country between Florence and Siena), is just such a wine: pure Sangiovese with no addition of Merlot or Cabernet, fresh, genuine, medium in body, with a refreshing bite of acidity, perfect with crostini di fegatini or grilled meats.

Poggio Argentiera, Maremma, Tuscany

Morellino is the local name from Sangiovese grapes grown in the province of Grosseto around the wine town of Scansano – source of juicy, fleshy wines that are more generous than their leaner cousins in the Chianti Classico and elsewhere. I love Morellino di Scansano and this is a great, vivid, fresh example.

OUR CLASSICS

Cascina Fontana, Barolo, Piedmont

Hand-crafted wines by our great friend Mario Fontana. Unfiltered and made with as minimal interference as possible, Mario's wines are authentic and faithful expressions of the wine country of Le Langhe.

Azienda Agricola Fratelli Politi, Le Marche

Giuditta Politi makes one of the best Verdicchio's you will ever taste – full in body, richly textured, clean, unoaked and powerful. Giuditta was formerly a molecular geneticist before taking over her family estate, and her wines are made with both scientific precision and also passion and respect for the territorio. Loretello is a truly great white wine that we are proud to import exclusively.
